FIVE CENT AUTO FARES FOR CITY

FARES FOR CITY

Five egnt auto trips are to be furnished by the litne Anto Service company, of Los Angeles, which has purchased 35 Ford touring cars from the Tri-State Motor company.

The cars were contracted for Thursday afterneon by W. E. Phillips? of the company and will be put on the streets Saturday. More are to be added and regular trips will be made to all parts of the city for five cents, he says.

This system has proved a success in Los Angeles, Long Beach, Phoenix and other cities, it is claimed. There are 544 Ford cars now being operated in Los Angeles, running on the streets like trolley lines. There are 59 at Long Beach, while 75 are in operation at Phoenix.

When Mr. Phillips placed his order

OPENS ABOUT JAN. 1 New York, Nov. 13.—The New York stock exchange probably will resume regular business with the beginning of the new year, unless unexpected obstacles are encountered. This statiment is made on high authority and is the result of a series of conferences recently held between officials of the exchange and lending financial interests of the country.

NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE IS TO REOPEN

New York, Nov. 12.—The New York cotton exchange will reopen for unrestricted trading next Monday morning. November 16. The board of governors so ordered teday.

The decision to reopen the cotton exhhange was reached at a special receting of the board of managers, and the announcement was greeted with enthusiasm on the floor of the exhange, which was crowded with members, in anticipation of such a statement.

The announcement of reopening marks the end of the most brying experience in the history of the exchange.

Business on the exchange was suspended on July 20, amid great excites ment resulting from the European war, and after three failures which left an unliquidated interest of fully 80,000 bules. The situation was made more difficult by the existence of a large international interest, and since the closing of the exchange members have been endeavoring to liquidate old contracts to meet the enormous losses resulting from the great decrease in prices, and to arrange to regume business and to arrange to regume business under safe conditions.

NEW ORLEANS EXCHANGE ALSO PLANS TO REOPEN New Orleans, La., Nov. 13.—The New Orleans cotton exchange will open for unrestricted trading Monday, Novem-ber 16. This was reported by the board unrestricted trading Monday, November 18. This was reported by the board of directors of the exchange at a meeting today after it was announced the New York cotton exchange would open on that date.

The New Orleans cotton futures markets closed Friday, July 31. The suspension was thought by many to be a matter of only a few days. January cotton in New Orleans closed at 10.65 on July 31, a net loss for the short day's trading of 50 points, $3.50 a bale. In the liquidation trading following, the price went to seven cents, but recently it recovered with trading going on helween 7.50 and 7.60. The local spot market was reopened September 23 at $5.55 for middling, compared with 12.5-16 on July 31, a loss of practically five cents a pound, or $25 a bale. In the Dalias market prices went down to six cents for middling, market a bale worth only $30. This was the lowest point of the downward movement.
